

Books and Authors

Given the fact that there are so many books, and consequently so many authors- all relevant, it is very difficult to say which books and authors should one memorize for purposes of entrance examination. But at the same time, if one is in touch with the literary world, or interested in reading, questions pertaining to books and authors are very easy to score.

For example, if one is asked the author of Midnight Children, its all too easy for someone who reads newspapers and is interested in literature.

Below, I have noted a few titles which I feel are more probable to appear in the question paper. Apart from these, do check the best-sellers, in India and Abroad, especially in the non-fiction genre.
